The convention of the Daughters of the Confederacy held a meeting yesterday at the residence of Dr. Herndon on Prince street. Among those present were Mrs. Jemes A. Scott of Lynchburg, representing the Lucy Minor Otey division; Miss Mary Smith of Warrenton, representing the Black Horse division; Miss Roland of Baltimore, representing the Appomattox division, and Mrs. S. N. Davis and Mrs. Lee of Alexandria, representing the Mary Custis Lee division. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. P. T. Yeatman, and Miss Roland was elected chairman pro tem., with Mrs. Scott secretary pro tem. The credentials of the delegates were then called for and read to the convention, after which the constitution of the society was presented by Mrs. Davis and Miss Roland and was thoroughly discussed. It was finally adopted, with a was selected as the date for their anniversary in memory of the battle of Ball's Fluif. The convention then adjourned for the day.

Dr. McKim and the Bishopric,

To the Editor of The Evening Star:

I have seen from time to time during the recent sessions in Minneapolis of the Episcopal general convention some most extraordinary statements in our papers involving the name of my honored brother clerkyman, the Rev. Dr. R. H. McKim, in connection with the episcopate of our new discesses. with the episcopate of our new diocese From my close personal knowledge of his high character and peculiarly sensitive sense of honor, and feeling a great wrong was being done him, and suspecting a disquised of honor, and feeling a great wrong was being done him, and suspecting a disquised hostility to be at the bottom of it, I communicated with him, laying before him clippings of Items which were sent to this city from Minneapolis and Richmond, Va.

An immediate reply by telegram, followed by a letter, expressed his pain and surprise as well as, at the time, his utter ignorance of what was being done with his name in connection with the new bishopric, he never having spoken a word nor written a line in reference to himself in such a connection, adding that the use of his name by any moment authorized by him.

I recall a conversation with him some moment authorized by him.

I recall a conversation with him some months ago, while we were walking together, when I casually remarked that "his name would doubtless be used among others for our new bishopric," to which he at once replied, that "concerning that subject he would absolutely have nothing to say or do," and it was at once dropped.

In the interest of that fairness which every bonorable person counts sacred, and therefore to prevent all misrepresentation, I am constrained to place this communication in your columns and thus protect a Christian gentleman, whom to know is to honor any contents and the prevent and the church brave and courteous, and withal, unassuming, modest man. That the rame of the Rev. Dr. McKim should at this very time have been brought into great prominence in the whole church is no fault of his. Gurleading church papers, the Southern Churchman, the Church Standard the editor of that paper emphasizes the doctor's services, But to have put himself into promisence for our new bishoppic, such a course for the Rev. Among these are Rev. J. H. Robeson, Rev. P. H. Green, Catonsville, Md., Rev. D. P. Scaton, Rev. J. C. McCaby and Rev. J. T. Jerifer. Addresses are expected from Lishop J. W. Gaines, Rev. John H. Collett and Rev. D. P. Seaton. The colored Free Masons will officiate in laying the stone. The new building will be built of brick, with stone trimmings. It will be 40x90 feet, and will be two stor Sungh. The new store will be the auditorium. The building was designed by B. Stanley Simmons, architect, and the contract for construction has been awarded to Collins & Lee. The important work connected with the crection of the edities is in the bands of a building committee, consisting of B. H. Davis, J. W. Walkins, T. Enis, George Lucas and J. Cooper. The pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Johnston, has only leen in his present position a few months, but his labors have met with so much success that it was found possible to enter building.

the trank, and Miss St. Tel identified the garment.

Miss St. Tel told of the inconvenience to which she had been put by the taking of her trunk. She is now playing with the "Twentleth Century Girl."

The prisone-, in his own behalf, told the court that Saturday night he found the broken trunk beneath the stage, and he tock it home for safe keeping. He denied that ale had any intention of keeping the truck or any of its contents.

Miss St. Tel told the court that there was rething missing from the trunker was rething missing from the trunker there was repearing as a matter of charity. He was convinced that his client was innocent. Judge Miller said he was not satisfied with the explanation, and held Gordon in £00 security for the action of the grand jery.

Rev. Dr. Sunderland, the paster of the First Presbyterian Church, has issued a card, extending a cordial invitation to the pasters and friends of the Presbyterian and other churches, to be present at the installation of Rev. Dr. Talmage as co-paster of the church, at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

The exercises will be participated in by the various Presbyterian pastors who were designated to perform this duty at the last meeting of the Washington city presbytery. The installation segmon, will be delivered by Rev. Dr. Gregg of Brooklyn, N. Y. The latter, with his wife is now in this city as the guest of Mr. John RiCarmody, 1220 16th street.

Columbin Cable Gars Stopped.

Patrons of the Obligiba Rallway Company, particularly those in office and attending school, werk greatly inconvenienced this morning because of suspension of travel over the road from a little after 7 o'clock until after 9,17the trouble was caused by the passagif of a heavy berwagen in front of a car at 7th and K streets northwest. Injurder to avoid a collision the gripman of the car hurriedly applied the brakes, but, was in such haste that he failed to release the cable before the brakes operated. As a result the cable was badly torn, and it was found necessary to cut it before a splice could be made. After a delay of about two hours all yas as serene as before.
